Splash

Only first time users will see this screen upon opening the app.

In this user flow, the user taps "New Chat"

Loading New Chat

User will see this after tapping "New Chat" from the Splash page or the Conversations page.

While loading, check the users current location for other app users within the range of 50 Miles.

Users never have to update their current location this way!

Chat - Empty

Once a user starts a new chat, show them the cheeky messaging and that the keyboard is already in view.

In the nav bar, display the Anon's range away from the app user, the Shy Hi Logo, and a back button to take them to the conversations page.

User types a message

Chat - Typing

User has typed their message, notice the color difference within the text field and that the "Send" button is only active with a message entered.

User taps "Send"

Chat - Sent

After a user sends their message, close the keyboard and display their message within the chat.

User waits for a response

Chat - Received

Show the Anon's response in a slightly different color on the left side.

User taps the "<" to go to his/her convos
